

National Education Charter Parents Guide

BPS 034 / 14-09-2026

Dear Parent,

Greetings from Buds Public School!

We are writing to encourage all parents to thoroughly read the document issued by the UAE Ministry of Education: "The National Education Charter – Parents' Guide". Please find the document attached to the email.

Education is a shared responsibility between the home and the school. To ensure complete synergy in your child's growth, we ask that you dedicate time to review this guide and activate its activities within your daily family routines.

The National Education Charter serves as the unified national framework outlining the core values, character traits, and essential skills that every learner in the UAE should develop. While the school embeds these principles into classroom activities and campus life, true growth happens when learning is reinforced and practiced at home. This guide provides families with practical, interactive ways to seamlessly integrate character development into daily home life. The guide offers simple, non-theoretical activities tailored for everyday environments, such as the family living room, bedroom, kitchen, car, mosque, majlis, and digital spaces.

We encourage you to choose an activity from the guide this week to try with your child. Thank you for your continued partnership in raising a confident, responsible, and future-ready generation.

Donald Errol Weilson,
Principal