The head of Inclusion and Wellbeing works as a bridge between the Counselling and Special Education Department and the Mainstream classrooms to ensure that the modalities of the procedure are carried out and specifically, modifications, concessions granted reflect in the IEP of SEND case with learning difficulties. The concerned takes onus of bringing about more awareness towards the entire program which leads to cultural transformation and streamlining of the entire process.

Parents and guardians are given the opportunity to be involved in many aspects of their child's education. Class teachers, alongside Special educators and Phase heads, have the responsibility to invite parents and guardians to discuss their child's progress, the targets their child is working towards, and the support their child is receiving.

Class teachers and subject teachers set targets for all students of determination and take measures to ensure learners are involved in understanding their targets and how they can achieve them.

Inclusive Culture and Climate

An ethos of positive classroom culture & inclusive education is found in all aspects of the school.

- School provides training to educators at all levels, to sensitize them and increase their awareness about the experience of SEND and how to identify and support learners who have learning difficulties.
- Provide opportunities for parents and caregivers to better understand SEND, and the resources and support mechanisms available to them and their families.
- Develop promotional materials within the school to raise awareness and reduce stigma on issues relating to inclusion and promote the inclusion of students of determination.
- Incorporate and integrate a monitoring and evaluation plan to track and measure any impact on attitudes, beliefs and experiences of students who experience SEND.
- Increase the representation of all types of learners, particularly those who experience SEND, in education and promotional materials including print and on-line sources, literature, toys, the media and other relevant sources of information to highlight the abilities and capacities of individuals who experience SEND.

- Exercise a positive admission policy which welcomes a diverse range of learners.
- Safeguarding the health, safety and welfare of all pupils, with a particular focus on vulnerable groups.

Inclusive Admission Practice

School adopts an admission process that:

- Ensure that students who experience special needs will be provided with the support, accommodations and curricular modifications required to enable equitable access to educational opportunities

- Admission test for students of determination will be waived off when they provide an assessment report from an authorized testing agency approved by MOH and DHA.

School welcome students of determination and has a learning support program, addressing the individual needs of all students including special needs, gifted and talented. In the case where a child’s specific need has not been previously identified, the school reserves the right to review the situation in order to assess the capacity to address his/her needs within their existing level of provision. We expect parents to work closely with us if a particular educational need is identified during or following the admission process.

Identifying Students of Determination

The identification process is based on objective assessment tools. We aim to identify children with difficulties as early as possible, so that appropriate support can be given at the earliest. Screenings for inclusion are done at the time of admissions and various assessment tools are used to identify students through the year.

The staff is sensitized with the knowledge and definition of the various categories of SEND through regular workshops, reading material, case studies and hands-on classrooms experience. Parents are encouraged during the orientation program in the beginning of the academic year to share the information about their ward with medical issues that need special handling, learning deficits they may know of or behavioural and emotional issues.

Monitoring and Tracking of children with SEND is through the same methods as identification. Assessment is ongoing, although more formal once each term. Identified needs are evaluated and discussed in light of assessment results and through staff discussion.

Levels:

Identifying Gifted and Talented Students

The school led by the inclusion team identifies the various gifts and talents of students across different phases. We ensure that identification of students' individual abilities are prompt and accurate to ensure that effective interventions are put in place swiftly to maximise the student's learning in school. Following are the four domains of human ability, which are pivotal in guiding the identification of G&T.

- Intellectual Abilities
- Creative Abilities
- Socio-Affective Abilities
- Sensorimotor Abilities

The school identifies student abilities via different channels. A summary of them are listed below:

1. Identification through referrals. During the year teachers, parents and other members of the school can refer any student for gifted and talented traits. The teachers are also provided with training sessions for the same. The inclusion team, in partnership with teachers, uses a suite of tests and checklists designed for investigating specific ability.

2. The following screening tools are used:

Inclusive Curriculum

We endeavour to underpin a high level of expertise and training of staff to support students of determination by:

- Following the systems and procedures outlined in the Inclusive Education Framework.
- School leaders at all levels; including Principal, Governor for Inclusion, Section Supervisors, Head of the Departments and Support Teachers, are responsible for ensuring that the curriculum; in its narrow and broadest senses, is personalized to match the needs of the pupils.
- Establishing Individual Education Plans (IEPs) and Behaviour Modification Plan (BMIP) are specifically tailored to the unique need of individual students with SEND.
- Regularly evaluate the effectiveness of provision made for all students who experience SEND and ensure that specialist expertise is secured where necessary.
- All teachers are proficient with inclusive education techniques, curricular modification, personalization of learning objectives and assessment strategies.
- Provisions are continually monitored throughout the whole school by members of IST including Support Teachers.
- Learning walks take place frequently and pupils also have the opportunity to express their views to members of IST.
- Setting suitable learning challenges at all levels (determined through comprehensive analysis and assessment)
- Emphasizing the importance of, and creating opportunities to develop, a holistic learner profile, this helps all individuals to become responsible members of local, national and global communities.
- Modified curriculum for wave 2 and 3 students is planned by the subject teachers in coordination with IST and HoDs.
- Depending upon curriculum modification effective interventions through counselling support, support from LSA or special educator is provided.

Inclusive Teaching

We ensure that the needs of all groups of learners are effectively met by:

- Following the systems and procedures outlined in the Inclusive Education Framework.
- Maintaining clear and effective whole-school systems for accurate and timely identification of individual needs in relation to communication, learning, social-emotional wellbeing, and behaviour.

- Monitoring how planning and differentiation is undertaken throughout the school in order to ensure that pupils' different learning styles and learning needs are taken into account.
- Analysis of data, focusing on the progress made by various identified groups of students.
- Rigorous self-evaluation and action planning.

Inclusive Assessment

Assessment and its associated feedback are essential to student learning. Timely and appropriate identification and assessment are important factors in ensuring that appropriate intervention commences as soon as is feasible.

- Assessment happens at every stage routinely as an integral part of teaching and learning.
- Formative assessment shows progress and summative assessment demonstrates attainment.
- The triangulation between different kinds of assessment i.e. attainment, CAT4, and ASSET help in leading students to work to the best of their ability.
- Self and peer assessment enables students to better understand assessment expectations and work towards improving their own performance.
- Problem-based learning frequently involves elements of group work composed of students with mixed abilities, experiences, academic cultures and/or motivations.
- Assessment satisfies a number of different purposes in addition to student learning, such as classifying achievement, quality assurance and supporting lifelong learning
- Modified assessment and accommodations are planned for wave 2 and 3 students based on assessment reports and in coordination with HoDs and IST members.

SEND Record Keeping

In addition to the SEND register, students of determination have a Learning Support Log, which is regularly updated by LS staff to record all information about a child. (E.g. meetings with parents, detailed summary of the support the child is receiving.)

Students receiving individual support from LSA have an Individual Education Plan. The IEP is planned with the class teacher and shared with parents and the learner. The IEP is linked to the student's class based individual targets where possible. The IST monitors progress towards the IEP target regularly with the student and class teacher. Formal meetings with the parent to review the IEP take place twice per year.

Concerned teachers, section supervisors and section heads maintain assessment reports from outside agency and teachers have access to the records for the children they teach only as these records are confidential.

Medical Records

Students have reports/records from medical/health professionals. These are maintained by the School Nurse who passes on any relevant information to teachers
